

WRIST JOB

Words & Music by
STEVE MARRIOTT

She was my sense of rea-son,— the girl that lived here,—
I wan-der through my dark-ness— and yet re-mem-ber—
How can I help it?— Want to re-mem-ber—

Now she's gone and I'm a-lone.— My heart is cold,—
All the love that I have seen.— A breath that sweet,—
Allow a fool to sit and dream.— There's nothing here for me

I can't con-trol my soul,— Trying to re-mem-ber just
A deep and burn-ing heart,— But that was so long a-go, like
The way to go ain't clear,— Liv-ing for to-mor-row, that's
